Ignite your teams.

Differentiate your internal events from everyday video conference calls in a way that's new and exciting for your teams. Visually stunning virtual venues and state-of-the-art engagement tools captivate employees and encourage participation throughout the entire event.

- 1 Gain live feedback with polls, real-time Q&A, and emoji reactions
- 2 Host breakout sessions to facilitate team discussions
- 3 Present in a virtual venue that exemplifies your brand and company values
- 4 Track engagement before, during, and after the event with robust analytics

Pro team, at your service.

Planning your next internal event shouldn't pack onto your employees' already busy workloads. Touchcast's team of industry experts is dedicated to creating a magical experience without creating a heavy lift for your employees.

- 1 Gain support from event conception to completion with tailored white-glove delivery
- 2 Bring your imagination to reality through design workshops & project plan development
- 3 Don't stress about the main event; feature live support on event day and utilize pre-event contingency planning

"Touchcast is the Tesla of Virtual Events."

Insights, On-Demand.

Your thought leadership and valuable insights don't need to leave along with your audience after the event ends. Let the conversation live on the Touchcast Metaverse content hub, offering a Netflix-like experience that perfectly packages your sessions and materials.

- 1 Transform videos into text with auto-generated 'smart' articles for every session
- 2 Make your sessions available on-demand for viewing at any time, anywhere, in any language
- 3 Automatically create chapters for each session and re-watch specific sections with ease

Why Touchcast?

Touchcast is the world's leading communications intelligence company. A pioneer in the use of mixed-reality and AI, we bring people together by breaking down the barriers of space, language and accessibility.
